“I’d like to think that long after I’m gone, my love of dogs is still very much alive.”

Legacy giving represents an important source of income for many charities and the Kennel Club Charitable Trust is no different. When supporters leave us a gift in their Will, it means we can sustain and expand the work that we do across each of our priority areas. Whether this is investing in pioneering research projects, funding specialised training programmes or awarding grants to canine welfare organisations, our goal is to help not just the dogs we love, but the people whose lives they share.

The difference you can make

In choosing to make a bequest, you'll be keeping tails wagging and faces smiling well into the future. Here are a just few examples of how a legacy gift, no matter what size, can turn lives around:

£10,000 | could provide veterinary care for 20-30 dogs in need in a rescue centre.

£30,000 | could train a support dog, enabling its owner to live a safe, free and fulfilling life.

£100,000 | could fund vital research into breed-specific diseases, improving the health of dogs long-term.

In for a penny, in for a hound

Leaving a gift in your Will is a very personal decision. In fact, it may be the most significant or sizeable charitable gift you've ever made. To help you with this process, our team are more than happy to offer support and advice, should you prefer to talk things through before finalising your commitment.

Whilst unrestricted gifts provide us with the most flexibility in funding our work, we understand that some people may want to dedicate their gift for a specific purpose. If you'd like to speak to someone about your gift, please get in touch or take a look at the Legacy Giving page on our website, download the guidance notes and complete the online declaration form.

If you've already remembered The Kennel Club Charitable Trust in your Will, we'd love to hear from you. Not only will this help us shape our future plans, but it also gives us an opportunity to thank you properly and keep you informed of the work that we're doing. The information you share with us will be treated as confidential and won't be legally binding.
